Day 1

History/Geography

Reading the History Books Aloud

We encourage you to use the narration method to help your children focus and retain the history material. Narration differs from the classroom method of testing random ideas, and may seem strange at first, but we have no doubt you’ll come to appreciate it.

In the narration method, you’ll read the history books together, and then have your children tell you what they remember from the reading. Enjoy hearing all your children have grasped!

William Wilberforce | Chapters 1–2

Discussion questions and answers are provided in the back of the book.

Overview

William Wilberforce was an evangelical Christian member of the British Parliament who, through diligent persistence, eventually saw all British slaves freed (1807) … without war.

Although we study American history this year, we pause to read Wilberforce’s biography to compare the two different ways nations ended slavery. See Britain’s way here. In a few weeks we’ll read how the U.S. ended slavery.

Timeline and Map Activities

Note: Please refer to Section Four for Instructions on how to complete the Timeline and Map Activities. In addition, please read “Why You Will Find Contradictions in History” in Section Three.

Read-Alouds

Read-Alouds are quality literary works you read to your children. Among all their many qualities, Read-Alouds:

- develop a life-long love of reading. When you read great literature to your children, it creates a thirst to read. They’ll begin to think, “I love books! One day I’m going to read books like this!”
- expand your children’s vocabulary.
- build important listening skills—including the ability to visualize the meaning of spoken words.
- develop an “ear” for good oral reading.
- develop oral reading skills. Having heard quality oral reading done by you, your children will imitate you.
- give you and your children a context for sharing mutually significant times together.

Read-Alouds differ from Readers in that they require deeper understanding of “the way things are”—in life in general or in a specific area. Others are emotionally charged enough that we figure you ought to be “right there” to help debrief your children.

And then there are those books we’ve classified as Read-Alouds simply because they’re too good to let your children enjoy by themselves. We know you’d feel cheated if you weren’t in on the adventure.

Vocabulary Development

We incorporate vocabulary development within the Read-Aloud notes. We pull these vocabulary words from the books you read.

How to Teach Vocabulary: Find the vocabulary words in bold type in a sentence. Read the sentence to your children and see if they can define the word. If they don’t know, just explain what the word means to your children. For words that are in bold type followed by a colon, define the word for your children as you read the book aloud.

Example:

Moccasin Trail | Chapter 1

Setting
The West, Oregon Territory 1844

Vocabulary

... Night came down quickly over the equatorial forest … (a rainforest near the equator)

Hibernation: when animals spend the winter sleeping.
History 4

Vocabulary

He walked with an easy, almost careless gait, yet not a twig snapped under his moccasins, not a branch swayed or a pebble rolled to show he had passed. (the manner of walking, running, or moving on foot)

His eyes were not black, but so light a brown they looked almost golden against his bronzed skin; yet they had the Indian's wild, unsettled, wary look in them. (marked by keen caution, cunning, and watchful prudence in detecting danger)

The strong, pungent smell of the stuff filled his nostrils as he straightened up, corkscrewing the horn. (causing a sharp sensation)

There were others under his shirt, sweeping down over his chest and belly in that same vicious curve. (marked by violence or ferocity)

Jim's thoughts broke off abruptly as an alarm sounded, back in that always vigilant corner of his brain. (alertly or vigilantly)

For perhaps a count of sixty he stood motionless, bringing every faculty of his mind to bear on the matter. (power or faculty)

A quick glance told him that all was well, even before his gaunt wolflike dog, Moki who always slept with one eye open, came wriggling out from beneath a bush to greet him with a flurry of tail wagging and panting. (thin and bony)

He stared for seconds at an irregular dark spot between two clumps of leaves before he realized he was looking directly into the mule's long-lashed and inscrutable eye. (incapable of being investigated and understood)

Filling the kettle at the creek, he set it simmering over the fire on an improvised tripod. (constructed or fabricated out of what is conveniently at hand)

Moki's tail thumped ingratiatingly. (pleasingly, flatteringly)

As he worked his low, tuneless whistle mingled with the dog's snarling and slavering over the meat. (drooling, slobbering)

Revulsion swept him, and he jerked away from the woman, pressing his cheek into the rough hair of the buffalo hide under his head. (a sense or mood of utter distaste or repugnance)

He was glad the bear had died, glad he had killed him, gloatingly proud of that splayed hide and the talons dangling from his neck, and his own valor. (gloatingly: in a manner of great self-satisfaction; talons: claws)

During the tranquil, shadowy weeks of his convalescence the lodge became home to him. (tranquil: free from disturbance or turmoil; convalescence: gradual recovery of health and strength after disease)

Something happened inside the boy as he watched one of the warriors curvetting proudly on his beautiful cream-colored mare ... (prancing, capering, gyrating)

One lash of his supple body brought him to his feet; his wrist flicked and the firelight glinted on the flying steel blade as he melted into the bushes. (characterized by ease and readiness in bending or other actions and often by grace and agility, not stiff and awkward)

The fact that Tom was in his fifties and Jim barely nineteen had mattered to neither of them in these months they'd traveled together, though the amiable bickering about it was a nightly ritual. (good-natured and well-intentioned)

* * *

Use the following words as you discuss today's reading to enhance your children's understanding of the story.

flintlock: a gunlock in which a piece of flint strikes against steel and produces sparks that ignite the priming.

Plains: the vast dry grassland in central North America.

bourgeways: as with some other ways words are “pronounced” in Moccasin Trail, bourgeways really refers to another word, bourgeois—of, relating to, or typical of the middle class.

cached: placed or stored in safety or concealment.

Sioux: a tribe of Indians in the northern plains of North America who were famous for their bravery, fighting ability, and political skills.

plew: a beaver skin.

castoreum: a creamy orange-brown substance with strong penetrating odor made of the dried perineal glands of the beaver; used by perfumers as a fixative and by professional trappers to scent bait.

greenhorn: an inexperienced or unsophisticated person.

Digger Indians: Native Americans of the central plateau region of W North America, including tribes in Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, and central California. The name is supposedly derived from the fact that they dug roots for food.1

awl: a pointed instrument for marking surfaces or piercing small holes (as in leather or wood), the blade being differently shaped and pointed for different uses.

sinew: a tendon dressed for use as a cord or thread.

poultice: a soft mass (as of bread, bran, or medicated clay) usually heated and spread on cloth for application to sores, inflamed areas, or other lesions, to supply moist warmth, relieve pain, or act as a counterirritant or antiseptic.

medicine dreams: an Indian belief encouraging young boys before or at puberty to enter a period of fasting, meditation and physical challenge. He separates himself from the tribe and goes to a wilderness area. The goal is to receive a vision that will guide his development for the rest of his life.2

guttural: belonging to a speech sound or a language or speaker having sounds that do not occur in standard English and that are articulated in the throat.

switches: heavy strand of usually long cut hair fastened at one end and used in addition to a person's own hair.

graven: engraved, carved, sculptured.

counted coup: to do something risky enough to get killed doing it and live to tell about it.

Blackfoot: Blackfoot Indians lived on the Great Plains of the United States and Canada. Before 1850, the Blackfeet claimed a broad area just east of the Rocky Mountains. This area extended southward from present-day Edmonton, Alberta, to Yellowstone National Park. In the early days, the Blackfeet hunted buffalo on foot. Later, they became skilled at stealing horses. Warriors quietly entered the enemy camps, cut loose the best horses, and led them away while their owners slept. The Blackfeet lived in buffalo-hide tepees.3

Nez Perce Indians: [pronounced nehz PURS] are a tribe that lives in north-central Idaho. The name Nez Perce means pierced nose, but few of the Indians ever pierced their noses. In 1805, a French interpreter gave the name to the tribe after seeing some members wearing shells in their noses as decorations. The Indians kept the name. The Nez Perce originally lived in the region where the borders of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington meet. Prospectors overran the Nez Perce reservation after discovering gold there in the 1860s.4

To Discuss After You Read

Q: What jobs were the former fur traders taking up and why does this unsettle Jim?
A: they went east, guided wagon trains, or set up trading posts; he can’t see himself doing so

Q: What did Jim’s encounter at age 11 with the grizzly bear do to change his life?
A: the bear’s attack had put him in contact with Indians who had saved his life—the years with the Indians had divided his mind as to which people group Jim belonged to

Q: What made Jim a Crow?
A: when he first counted coup and had his medicine dream

Q: Why does Jim turn his back on his Indian life?
A: he sees a fellow warrior with a blond scalp on his coup stick, and that blond hair reminds Jim of his white mother

Setting
Boston to California; 1849

Overview

When his Aunt Arabella is forced to sell her home, Jack and Praiseworthy the butler set out from Boston to California. They plan to strike it rich in the first few months at the California Gold Rush, then return home and save the family estate. Along the way they catch a thief, pass the fearsome Straits of Magellan, are becalmed in the Pacific, earn gold-dust from haircuts, get held up by highwaymen, make money from neckties, defeat a strong man, and finally strike it rich. Unfortunately, only a mile from San Francisco and passage home, their steamboat explodes and they lose their gold. They recoup some of their losses selling cats, but then Aunt Arabella and Jack’s sisters arrive in California unexpectedly. Praiseworthy proposes, Aunt Arabella accepts, and the new family goes back to the diggings.

Q: What job must Jack and Praiseworthy do when they confess they are stowaways? Do they like their job? Why or why not?

He started convulsively as a log crackled, sending up a stream of sparks. (resembling convulsion in being violent, sudden, frantic, or spasmodic)

Tall, hawk eyed, and swaggering, Adam Russell had seemed a being from another world … (conducting oneself in an arrogant or superciliously pompous manner)

He took in every detail of Adam Russell’s dress and speech, tingly to his boisterous laughter, drank in the wild smell of castoreum that clung to his buckskin shirt. (full of exuberant, uninhibited, and often excessive animal spirits; completely unrestrained)

Bandy: bowed.

kinnikinnick: a mixture of the dried leaves and bark of certain plants (as sumac leaves and the inner bark of a dogwood, especially the silky cornel) and sometimes tobacco smoked by the Indians and pioneers of the Ohio valley and the region of the Great Lakes.

jumpy as a treed painter: nervous as a trapped cougar/puma/mountain lion.

Comanches: a southern Plains tribe that hunted buffalo from Nebraska to northern Mexico. They won fame as the most skilled Indian horseback riders of the Southwest. In battle, many Comanche eluded arrows and bullets by hanging against the side of—or even under—their horses. The Comanche lived chiefly as hunters and followed buffalo herds. They hunted on foot until the 1700s, when the Spaniards brought horses to the Great Plains. Then the Comanche became master riders. For many years, the Comanche fiercely defended their land from other tribes and white ranchers.

incantation: words used in the manner of a formula without conscious concern as to their aptness or relevance to a particular situation.

A: Adam was everything Jim’s dad was not, free, carefree, full of wanderlust, full of excitement—everything an 11 year-old could worship

Q: Why does Jim decide to find out what the letter said?
A: Tom is leaving, the beavers are hunted out, he doesn’t feel like he belongs with the Indians and the letter contains words of his “good medicine,” a sign

Q: Why do Jack and Praiseworthy go to California by boat, not overland? [chap. 2]
A: The trip is shorter—instead of a year, it will take several months

Q: How do Jack and Praiseworthy catch the thief? [chap. 2]
A: Praiseworthy claims to have a pig that will squeal when a pickpocket touches him; with the lights out, each man touches the pig, the pig does not squeal; when the lights go on again, Praiseworthy explains that he dusted the pig with coal dust, so the innocent people have smudged fingers and the guilty does not

Q: Do you think the captain does right to stop and pull the square-rigger? Why or why not? How many days does the ship lose by engaging in this act of kindness? [chap. 3]

Vocabulary

There was a curious disheveled air about the place. (marked by disarray and disorder)

His fingers tightened on his rifle, his glance flashed over trees, sullen sky, mud, and trampled grass, then lit on Rutledge’s burly figure half turning to wait for him a few steps ahead. (strongly built)

The voice was lusty and careless, interrupted now and again by little flurries of laughter … (full of energy or activity)

For a moment they stood silent, taut as two bowstrings, staring at each other. (high-strung, tense)

Jonathan strode off to fetch his banjo, moving with that brusque, shoving gait of his. (markedly short and abrupt, tending to be brisk, sharp, and often somewhat harsh or lacking gentleness)

Jim nodded, his mind a ferment of unfamiliar emotions. (a state of unrest)

The thought took root and grew disquietingly, all but blotting out Jim’s familiar world of sensation. (disturbingly, alarmingly)

Preoccupied, he forgot to warn Moki as they stepped around the last thicket. (lost in thought)

As they walked along in the gray half-light he let his eyes travel covertly over the threadbare shirt and jeans … (in a surreptitious manner)

Moccasin Trail | Chapter 5

Vocabulary
She stood alone and tense beneath the gloomy pines—a tiny, fair-haired figure, straight as a ramrod. (a rod used in ramming home the charge in a muzzle-loading firearm)

Her hair, like their mother’s, framed her face in crisp, sun-bleached tendrils, then fell in a honey-colored cascade. (wispy curls)

One look at Sally, and all the bead-bedecked Crow girls in Absaroka seemed gawky and overgrown, homely as mud. (lacking grace or elegance often from being too large or awkwardly put together)

“I’d as soon you didn’t!” cut in Sally’s emphatic voice. (commanding attention by prominence, forcefulness, or insistence)

… the set of her chin stubbornly at variance with the tender curve of her throat. (a degree of difference)

Capturing one of Jonathan’s swollen and lacerated feet, he peeled off the scrap of sock and began smearing on the thick paste he had concocted. (lacerated: jaggedly torn or cut; concocted: prepared by combining different ingredients) punk: wood that is so decayed as to be very dry, crumbly, and useful for tinder.

Spuds: potatoes.

pulverized: reduced to very small particles.

Q: How does Jim begin to break down the walls between himself and his family?
A: he provides fire and meat, describes how he killed a grizzly, heals Jonnies’ feet, takes charge

To Discuss After You Read

Q: Where does the Captain find fuel?
A: his cargo includes building materials, so he buys enough timber to get to San Francisco

When Jack and Praiseworthy reach San Francisco, they have traveled about 15,000 miles in five months.

Q: What surprises Jack and Praiseworthy about San Francisco?
A: a laundry ships shirts all the way to China and back because it is cheaper than washing them in San Francisco; a simple bath in water costs more than a bath in champagne; they can earn money simply by cutting the miners’ hair for free and panning the cut hair for the gold dust to be found in it

It is an optional hands-on program to enhance your student’s history studies. The Lap Book is packaged as a kit that includes instructions and materials for 40+ activities, which are scheduled throughout the year in this guide. Go to www.bookshark.com/eh30 to purchase or learn more about the Lap Book!

The Schedule page includes an estimate of how long each activity will take so you can plan ahead. The Notes include additional tips to help you complete the activities (when applicable).

This week, follow the Lap Book Kit instructions to assemble the Cover and the “Where in the World? Maps & More” Pocket. Next week your student will begin the activities to fill the Lap Book. Many of the Lap Book activities will require your student to follow specific steps to correctly complete the project. Some activities are scheduled across multiple weeks. We recommend that you and your student read over the full instructions for each week’s activity before they begin.

Note: Activities are not always scheduled in the same Week that they are covered in the readings. Some activities may be scheduled the week before or after the readings to reinforce the topics.

Immediately it was bobbing and twisting down the dark river, and a moment later had careened around a rocky point and vanished. (lurched)

One strong swing and Dan’l was on Bad Medicine’s back atop the divided pack, before the beast had time to get temperamental. (moody, irritable or unpredictable)

They made camp that night in the dubious shelter of an overhanging rock ledge … (unlikely)

“Cracky!” Dan’l shot upright, jaw agape. (wide open)

It ain’t fair, it’s too rough for her, he thought incoherently. (lacking clarity or intelligibility usually by reason of some emotional stress)

They could be driven no farther on this side; the mountains were impassable. (incapable of being passed)
Notes

Week 2

It was a momentous task to drag his own robe off Buckskin, to loosen her pack, to make his fingers move, to lift his arms. (of consequence, weighty)

After a long, still moment he reached for Dan'l's chunk of pemmican and meticulously divided it into equal parts. (in a manner marked by extreme painstaking care in the consideration or treatment of details)

Jim's eyes had not focused properly for hours; he swayed with Buckskin's every stumble, barely able to cling to her emaciated back. (made lean from hunger)

At that moment Jonnie hurtled, white faced, around the end of the wagon, a hammer in one hand and a wagon tire in the other. (dashed headlong)

The wheels slowed, made their final squealing revolution, and came to a halt under a towering oak tree. (rotation)

Portage: the carrying of boats or goods overland from one river or lake to another or around rapids.

Voyageurs: men employed by a fur company to transport goods and men to and from remote stations in the Northwest principally by boat.

A: partially because of the way Jim had to fight to get the meat from the dog and mostly because it wasn't cooked

Q: Describe how the different family members viewed the new homestead.
A: Sally can see the house to come and the furnishings, Jonnie plans a garden, Daniel dreams of fishing, and Jim sees the valley as ruined by settlers

Moki hadn’t suffered this indignity since he’d carried Red Deer’s wood in Absaroka, and there was lugubrious self-pity in every line of his body. (expressive of grief or sorrow)

And she still found energy for determined little attacks on the more uncivilized of Jim’s ways—his erratic notions of when it was time to eat … (characterized by lack of consistency, regularity, or uniformity)

Even Jim had to grin, but he went back to his eating unperturbed by Sally’s giggled “I’ll believe all that when I see it.” (unaffected by worry, interruption, disturbance, or disarrangement)

“Why, he’s gonna give us a tune or two!” Rutledge spoke reminiscently. (remembering)

He had just splashed across the stream that bordered the Mills’ claim when an enticing, oddly familiar odor drifted to his nostrils. (alluring, attractive)

Jim listened dubiously, envying the glow in his brother’s dark face. (in a manner expressive of doubt, hesitation, or suspicion)

A common treatment for croup was a poultice made of coal oil, lard, and sugar or honey.

hoecake: a small cake made of cornmeal, water, and salt usually cooked before an open fire.

Q: What are the two brothers’ ideas of home? How do their different ideas impact their work?
A: Jonnie likes having a single wonderful place, whereas Jim thinks the whole outdoor is home

Q: Why do neckties increase in value?
A: when a woman comes, all the men want to look their best and are willing to pay plenty to do so

Q: Why is Praiseworthy unconcerned about his fight with the Mountain Ox?
A: the larger man cannot read, so will probably fight from sheer strength; Praiseworthy read and almost memorized a book on boxing, so he feels confident he can win.

Wee Sing America | “Sacramento” p. 56

Read-Alouds

Moccasin Trail | Chapter 9

Vocabulary

He enjoyed his reprieve until he realized that Jonnie had something on his mind … (a respite or temporary escape)

He looked at it belligerently. (exhibiting assertiveness, hostility, or combativeness)

As he crossed the clearing to head for the woods, Dan’l cavorting breathless with excitement at his heels, Jonathan looked up from the fire he was building. (bounding, prancing, frisking about)

He began the boy’s training in walking silently, too, in the fine new moccasins—the gaudiest in Willamette Falls. (ostentatiously fine)

… then smiled as the boy surreptitiously rubbed a little casroeum onto himself as he baited the twig. (secretly, clandestinely)

Jim walked awhile in silence, then slowed his steps to a loiter. (to delay an activity or an errand or a journey with aimless idle stops and pauses and purposeless distractions)

… all the time he was frying fish for their belated supper, all the time they were eating. (delayed beyond the usual time)

He took the pen, felt his fingers close over it convulsively. (resembling convulsion in being violent, sudden, frantic, or spasmodic)

… in writing, with every one of Dan’l’s flourishes preserved and embellished. (enhanced or amplified by elaboration with inessential but decorative or fanciful details)

In a burst of high resolve Jim plunged vigorously into the tedious labor of felling trees, trimming and notching the logs … (tiresome because of dullness)

It took brawn and numbers to lift the heavy ridge poles into place and weight the loose-laid shakes of the roof with braced poles. (manpower, muscular strength)

Jim’s face became impassive. (giving no sign of feeling or emotion) surveyor: someone who determines the boundaries of claims.

vagrant: having a fleeting, wayward, or inconstant quality.

To Discuss After You Read

Q: What does it mean to be “called out” and why do you think the Indian tribes encouraged the behavior?
A: the boys would be summoned and forced to follow wherever the leader went; it helped toughen the boys, and gave them life skills that could help them survive in the wilderness

The Keath’s received 640 acres, a square mile.

Q: Why did work become onerous to Jim?
A: since he wasn’t used to it and Jonnie didn’t praise Jim’s efforts enough—Jonnie believed that what Jim was doing was the right thing to do

Q: Why was gambling not a big deal in the Indian tribes? How did Jonnie feel about it?
A: it was fun, and no one owned much, whatever was lost could be gotten again in another way; it was immoral and foolish—people could lose what they have through it

Jonnie’s carved pegs held down the shingles since nails were unavailable—metal couldn’t be brought easily overland.

Q: Why in Jim’s mind was a bow and arrow handier than a rifle at times?
A: a bow could be fired quicker, and was quiet

Q: What is Jonnie’s opinion of Indians? And Jim’s?
A: Indians are murdering, heathen savages who gamble and don’t work; Jim has lived with them and knows their kind-ness to him, though he also remembers times of savagery

Readers

To Discuss After You Read

Q: What does the phrase “rocking the cradle” mean?
A: dumping mud into a long, water-filled trough (the “cradle”), then rocking the trough back and forth to loosen the mud from any gold that might be locked within

Q: What happened at Sutter’s Mill?
A: a carpenter found gold, which started the California Gold Rush
Q: What tests can help you tell the difference between gold and fool's gold (iron pyrite)?
A: When smashed, real gold will flatten and not splinter like fool's gold; when doused with acid, true gold is unharmed—iron pyrite corrodes; gold weighs more than other metals.

To Discuss After You Read
Q: What caused working conditions in mills to change beginning in 1840? [p. 73]
A: Company owners wanted to increase production so they hired managers to run their businesses and managers cut wages.

Q: Why did the North and South drift apart? [p. 72]
A: The North gained wealth through industry while the South gained wealth through crops produced with the help of slaves.

Q: On page 73 the book calls freedom in the North “false freedom.” Was the freedom false or was the issue discrimination?
A: Answers will vary.

Vocabulary
One noon as he leaped down with the others to see what Mrs. Rutledge and the girls had concocted for lunch … (to prepare by mixing ingredients, as in cooking)

And Maggie, the irrepressible, giggled, “Looks like fun, though!” (impossible to repress, restrain, or control)

He had the makings of a good wily swimmer. (showing artful cunning)

… the day that settlers from the outskirts kept riding in to the post at Willamette Falls on lathered ponies shouting warnings of an imminent Indian uprising. (ready to take place, near at hand)

Eventually all were found tied to a tree at the edge of the placid village of Multnomah … (marked by serenity)

Chinooks: a formerly numerous North American Indian people originally inhabiting the territory of the northern shore of the mouth of the Columbia River.

Puncheon: split log or heavy slab with the face smoothed.

Tawny: a light brown color.

Demigod: one so preeminent in intellect, power, ability, beneficence, or appearance as to seem to approach the divine.

Impervious: incapable of being injured.

Vermilion: a bright red pigment.

To Discuss After You Read
Q: Is Jim trying to get Jonnie’s “goat” when Jim comments on how much work it is to build a cabin to merely get out of the rain?
A: Jim is asking a valid question, but to Jonnie, who has lost a home to debt, land, no debt and a home are all he seeks.

Q: Why was the family clock so important?
A: In those days people didn’t have watches and other quick and convenient ways of knowing the time. And not every family even had a clock. Theirs might be the only clock for miles around. A clock was a family heirloom as well as a time piece. It was a large, decorative piece that made the cabin seem like home.
Notes

Week 3

Q: What revelation does Jonnie come to upon seeing Jim's bear scars?

A: he sees that the Indians both saved Jim's life as well as were good to him—Jonnie sees that Jim sticks up for his Indian family because they were good to him

Q: Why does Jonnie feel pride in the cabin he built?

A: his family has been homeless for at least three years—at 17 years old, to produce a sturdy and usable dwelling is quite an accomplishment

Q: Why was Jim appalled at Sally's suggestion that he cut off all symbols that tied him to the Crow?

A: by denying his ties to his Indian past, he was afraid he would enrage his “helpers” and his medicine wouldn't work anymore

Q: When Jonnie compares Pa's 1812 war medal to Jim's coup feather, is that an apt comparison? Why or why not?

Vocabulary

ghost town: a deserted town. [p. 1]

To Discuss After You Read

Q: Why do you think people enslaved other people throughout the centuries? [pp. 2–3]

A: answers will vary; people practiced slavery in order to have others do hard work for them; they did it as a result of conquest of other nations; they accepted it as commonplace since everyone else did it

Q: Why didn’t the Portuguese, Spanish, and English just enslave Native Americans? Why did they need African slaves? [pp. 2–3]

A: there weren’t enough Indians to enslave. The Indians moved away and the trade in African people was streamlined and profitable

Q: Why was Thomas Jefferson's passage against slavery removed from the Declaration of Independence? [pp. 4–5]

A: the Congress didn’t want to hurt the feelings of other slave owners or slave traders

The stumps and blackberry thickets began to disappear laboriously, one by one, from the western acres of the glades … (involving or characterized by hard or toilsome effort or by detailed elaboration)

… you kept listening but not hearing anything except the wind in the trees, or the river whispering to you, or the nagging, insistent sound of Jonnie’s ax. (compelling attention, obtrusively conspicuous)

Jonathan sailed over her head in a graceful curve, landed in a rolling scramble of legs and arms, and sat up, dazedly watching her receding heels. (departing, moving away)

The Landmark History of the American People, Volume II | Chapter 2

To Discuss After You Read

Q: Who were abolitionists? What did they do? [pp. 8–9]
A: people opposed to slavery; they published unpleasant stories about slavery and helped slaves who ran from slavery

English abolitionists included figures such as William Wilberforce, who fought a political battle against slavery for years, finally culminating in the abolishment of slavery in British territories. [pp. 8–9]

Q: What good came of all the abolitionist literature from the North? What bad came from it? [pp. 10–11]
A: it helped stir up sentiment against slavery; it lumped all Southerners into one group, picturing them all as slave owners, and incited some violence

Q: What reasons did some Southerners give for praising the value of slavery? What’s wrong with these arguments? [pp. 10–11]
A: they said it was a national benefit; they said historically successful nations such as ancient Greece had slaves; they said Africans were a “separate creation” and should be slaves; some scientists said blacks were an inferior race; some argued that slavery was kind of like socialism and helped take care of people; answers will vary regarding what’s wrong with these arguments

Q: What does the author mean when he says “there were really many Souths”? How were they united? [pp. 12–13]

A: there were different regions of the South, like the Old South, the New South, and the Western and Backwoods South; all were slave states

Q: What did the phrase “Peculiar Institution” refer to? [pp. 12–13]
A: slavery

“Well, I dunno,” said Clyde Burke dubiously. (in a manner expressive of doubt, hesitation, or suspicion)

Jonnie studied his brother’s profile speculatively. (marked by questioning curiosity)

Jim had reconnoitered their villages in his solitary wanderings on Buckskin, and felt nothing but disgust for their squalid, spiritless ways. (made an exploratory or preliminary survey, inspection, or examination of)

He was up again instantly with one of his lithe movements, swinging atop Buckskin and pulling her to the left. (agile and lissome)

Cayuse Indians: occupied parts of NE Oregon and SE Washington. They were closely associated with the Nez Perce. In 1836 Marcus Whitman established a mission among them. In 1847, the Cayuse, blaming the missionaries for an outbreak of smallpox, attacked the mission and killed the Whitmans and their helpers. The settlers then declared war and defeated the Cayuse. In 1855 they were placed on the Umatilla Reservation in Oregon, which they continue to share with the Wallawalla and Umatilla peoples; by 1990 they were among the smallest groups of Native Americans, numbering 126. A small horse bred by them gave the name cayuse to all Native American horses.¹

Molala: now extinct, were a small tribal group that lived in the Central Cascade mountains. It is believed that they originally lived in north-central Oregon, along the Deschutes River in the Tygh Valley, but were driven into the mountains by the Tenino. The Molalas were split into two groups. The Lower Molalas occupied the headwater region of the Umpqua and Rogue Rivers while the Upper Molalas stayed in the Willamette watershed area. The Molalas lived in semi-subterranean houses in the winter and traded extensively with the Klamath tribe to the south. The Portland Journal reported on July 3, 1957 that a man by the name of Fred Yelkis was the last of the Molala tribe.²

². Source: http://logos.uoregon.edu/explore/Oregon/mhistory.html.
Paiute: is the name of two tribal groups of the Western United States—the Northern Paiute and the Southern Paiute. The Northern Paiute once lived in the area extending from Owens Lake in California, through Nevada, to just south of the Columbia River in Oregon. The Southern Paiute ranged from California to Arizona and Utah.

The Paiute lived in cone-shaped houses made of brush. Their religion centered on spirits of nature. During the 1800s, the Northern Paiute fought the white settlers who had come to the area. During the 1860s and the 1870s, the U.S. government established reservations for both groups of Paiute.3

Arapaho: are Plains Indians. Their own name was Inunaina [our people], but they were referred to as “dog eaters” [for the obvious reason] by other Native Americans. There are three major divisions: the Atisina or Gros Ventre, who were allied with the Blackfoot and now live with the Assiniboin in Montana; the Southern Arapaho, now living with the Cheyenne in Oklahoma; and the Northern Arapaho, who retain all of the sacred tribal stone articles and are considered by tribal members to represent the parent group. Since 1876 they have lived with their former enemies, the Shoshone, on the Wind River Reservation, occupying some 2 million acres in Wyoming, near Yellowstone National Park. There were close to 7,000 Arapaho in the United States in 1990.4

roan: having the base color muted and lightened by a liberal mixture of white hairs.

curvettet: leaped, bounded.

To Discuss After You Read

Q: Why does Jim suspect the Cayuse Indians of stealing?
A: the two other tribes nearby were too near and thus would have been suspect, plus the tribes were mired in poverty and were decimated by small pox and thus were not powerful enough to try to outwit the white men, and the Cayuse were thieves by nature

Q: Why don’t the settlers want to fight the Cayuse to get their cattle back? Why does Jim want to fight?
A: wars lead to more conflict and bloodshed and bad feelings; for the excitement
